

Official Adoption Agreement For the

Direct Support of Mission: Lutheran Youth and Young Adult Gatherings

PROJECT FOR NYTL IN EURASIA.

Project #EM0004

The group NYLT (Network of Young Lutheran Theologians) started meeting in 2011 and now meets twice a year. According to Sebastian Grunbaum, who helps organize the meetings, "I love to see how these young and brilliant minds connect with each other, get inspired and rejoice in the fellowship of each other." Participants represent groups in Norway, Finland, Sweden, Lithuania, Germany, England, Bulgaria, Romania, Ukraine, Czech Republic, and a few Americans who live or study in Europe. Most of the attendees study theology at seminaries or universities, are passionate about Christ, and plan to pursue careers as pastors, missionaries or teachers.

Topics are emailed ahead of time to participants, brief lectures introduce discussion items, and participants then meet in small groups to discuss each topic from their country's perspective. Each group then shares their key points with the larger group. Fellowship and discussion continued after the group meetings, through meals, and well into the evenings.

Funds for NYTL-Lutheran Youth and Youth Adult Gatherings for Eurasia help provide for the event and partial costs for on average 50 participants from multiple countries.
