For the

LATIN AMERICA SEMINARY SCHOLARSHIPS

Project #LM0009-65044

The Seminary Scholarships help do several things: we have 13 students that are currently receiving scholarships and 120 deaconess students also receive assistance through this project.. Six countries have students studying abroad. They help serve churches across Latin America, and also help seminaries expand and improve. In the past six years, missionary efforts have led to planting 40 churches across 10 Latin American countries. As the Lord blesses the planting of churches through the preaching of the Gospel, there is a need to prepare church workers.

Take Elvis Carrera for example. Elvis Carrera of Lima, Peru is from a new church plant in Los Olivos. There is no Lutheran seminary in Peru so it meant that he and his young wife and daughter needed to leave Peru for the first time ever in order to go and study to become a pastor in a foreign country and culture. Elvis and others like him have been offered scholarships to study abroad, having no residential seminary in their respective countries. The Lord of the Harvest has blessed this effort.

Even now the new residential seminary in the Dominican Republic is preparing workers throughout the Caribbean, Central, and South America so that the Gospel might continue to be carried to even more of Latin America. Not only is a need for more scholarships to meet the needs of students a factor, but the need for well trained church workers is overwhelming. This project intentionally partners with Lutheran churches through the seminary in Mexico, Bolivia, Venezuela, Guatemala and Chile in order to provide scholarships to assist in expenses such as residence, tuition and food. The students' home churches provide the costs of transportation and a monthly stipend for each student.

A gift of $307 would cover the average monthly cost for each scholarship and assistance to students.
