

Official Adoption Agreement For the

INGRIA - HOPE CENTER - RUSSIA

Project #RU0001-63220

Abortion is extremely high in St. Petersburg and protecting the unborn is not supported by state institutions. The Hope Center is an ongoing mercy project which reaches out to the greater population of St. Petersburg, Russia, with pregnancy counseling, pastoral care, and other spiritual counsel.

Operating from a strategic location in the city center and right next to the mother church of ELCIR (Evangelical Lutheran Church of Ingria in Russia), it has been easy to coordinate the center's work through contact with the ELCIR pastors there and nearby in St. Petersburg.

This Mercy outreach to the community and unchurched has served to introduce many to Lutheranism through partner Ingrian Lutheran congregations. Already many converts to Christianity have begun their journey to faith through the Hope Center. Reports continue come in of Russians brought to Christ through this mercy project and some have become members of the ELCIR. We pray for further growth of the same kind.

Support would help fund expenses such as seminars, training materials, office supplies, printing, telephone, internet and the Adoption-at-a-Distance Project (for single mothers).
