

MCMILLERS ON THE ROAD, AGAIN!

Many blessings in Christ to you all! June was as busy as May- traveling, preaching and presenting in Churches across the Midwest. The latest congregations we visited were Trinity in Racine Wisconsin and St. Paul's Lutheran Oconomowoc, Wisconsin. In all these Churches, the brothers and sisters received us with so much Christian love. Lia and Alessia have been such good little travelers!

Besides driving and preaching, my biggest responsibility is learning Italian. Even though I have already studied several other Romance languages (having grown up speaking Spanish and having studied French and Latin as an adult) learning Italian is a full time job in and of itself. After having spent several months studying grammar, sitting in on the Italian ZOOM service and reading the Bible, last month I decided to try something more challenging- reading Italian translations of books I already had read. So far I have read The Hobbit, Dracula, Animal Farm, Lord of the Flies, War of the Worlds and White Nights by my favorite author Fyodor Dostoevsky. Since I am not in Italy, I really don't know any better way to learn Italian. Thanks to the internet, Youtube has audio recordings of all of these books which helps with pronunciation.

On a more personal note, three weeks ago my little sister Anna was married to a wonderful Christian man named Colby Miller. At the wedding, Lia was the flower girl and danced all night. For our family, Colby is an answer to our prayers. We could not have asked for a better husband for Anna.

As we look to the months ahead, we give thanks for the generosity that so many have shown to us. The support for the work has been incredible. Thank you. Jesus really does supply for the preaching of the Gospel to all nations, but he does so through his bride the Church, which all of you form a part. Please keep us in your prayers while we are on the road. I am always reminded of the traveler's Psalm, "The Lord will keep your going out and your coming in from this time forth and forevermore." (Psalm 121:8)
