

The Lehmans in Puerto Rico

Making Connections!

Greetings to you all in the name of Jesus!

One of the things that we are focusing on is outreach and connecting with our neighbors. As many of you already know, we've been working tirelessly to open our Mercy House in Ponce.

This happened full time last month. In addition to the house being open during the week, the pastors are routinely walking to meet our neighbors and business owners.

We want to share what the day looks like for Pastor Lehman. After getting some office work done in the morning, he leaves the church around 10 am, and goes on a 1-hour daily walk with Pastor Neuendorf. Together they meet our neighbors, offer to pray for any needs that people might have. Great conversations are happening, and all are being invited to visit the church.

At 11:00 he is in the sanctuary for a morning prayer service. This is a service for members and visitors to attend. At this point the church is open until 6:00. Throughout the day, members and visitors can come and participate in activities and talk with the pastors and the deaconess.

The day closes at 5:30 with an evening prayer service. All are invited once again to gather in the sanctuary for the service.

This is the Wednesday-Friday routine in Ponce! We've had positive responses from many members and those in our communities. Many connections are being made. We pray that the Lord continues to bless this mission and that the Holy Spirit continues to work to bring more members to His church!
